SOS Make Ups Underway Today

Make - up clinics are underway at the Milam Health Unit in Cameron and in a Rockdale business for the final SOS series which attracted 7,619 Milam residents Sunday.

Cameron led in total Sabin administrations with 3,675 going through three centers. In seven other centers throughout the Milam area, 3,944 received Sabin serum over sugar cubes, according to Milam Medical Society spokesmen.

Rockdale's two centers served 1,807 people in the five - hour drive Sunday afternoon at both Rockdale and Aycock High Schools.

Other Milam centers reported: Thorndale, 1068; Milano, 344; Gause 301; Sharp 248; and Davilla, 176.

GOOD TURNOUT

Dr. C. G. Swift, spokesman for the Milam Medical Society, said the county turnout was gratifying in view of the adverse publicity on the Type III serum which was finally rebuffed by statements of the U. S. Health Service.

Make - up series are being given at the Milam Health Unit 9 to 12 Thursday morning and at Rockdale Flower Shop all day Friday.

The turnout in the three Cameron centers was good, SOS administrator Bill Burns said. People went to Simon - George Hall, Yoe High Gymnasium and O. J. Thomas Gymnasium.

Dr. Swift and Burns extended their appreciation to the many volunteer workers who assisted in the third and final Sabin on Sunday drive, sponsored by the Milam Medical Society and aided by voluntary 25 cent donations from those receiving the serum.

16,000 1ST TIME

The first series reached more than 16,000 people, Burns said. Turnouts for the second and third rounds were not as heavy but valuable in the cause of preventing polio.

The first series was directed at bulbar polio. The other series for lesser known types of the childhood disease.

$200 IN RINGS MERCHANDISE TAKEN MONDAY

Police Chief Elvin Hoskins today told The Herald that investigation is about complete on out-of-town suspects in the break-in a ttwo Cameron stores.

About $200 in costume jewelry, shirts and watches was taken in break - ins early Monday morning at Harden's Jewelry, in downtown Cameron, and Wilkerson's Drug Store, West Cameron.

Chief Hoskins said Harden's Jewelry reported the loss of five Timex watches, a $32 costume ring and eight other rings of lesser value.

Owners of Wilkerson Drug reported loss of $18 worth of $3 shirts, and six rings valued at $25.

The thieves made entry through the window at Harden's Jewelry and apparently scooped up whatever they could reach. More expensive merchandise had been removed from the windows in routine protective procedure, Hoskins said.

Residents near Wilkerson Drug said they heard the smashing of glass about 4 a. m. Monday, but did not investigate.

The break - in at Harden's was made sometime during that night, Hoskins told The Herald, and discovered Monday morning.

Hoskins had some definite out-of-town prospects, but was unable to disclose any additional information prior to a complete investigation of the break - ins and whereabouts of the suspects.

WHA' A PARTY — "Food fit for a king" said the Tuesday AM dailies about the blast at Windsor Castle for Angus Ogilvy and Princess Alexandria, soon to wed.

Although it took somewhere between $42,000 and $56,000 to pay for the royal banquet - ball, we'd say rather a bit of it went for something else, namely hootch. (That's what they call it in the Colonies.)

There were caviar and Samovar (as good a name as any for three dozen cases of Russian vodka); 400 pounds of salmon and 1,600 bottles of champagne; there were 2,000 bottles of beer and 15 dozen cases of scotch stacked up to here; there were 2,000 people and perhaps a few adangling from West Minister's steeple.

There were one king, five queens (somewhat better than a full house); several crown princesses and 12 princesses; in all attending were 70 of royal blood.

And to top it all, the groom Ogilvy, had a wreck before the party and had to be chauffered in a rented limosene. What a scene!

They mixed vodka with a twist (the dance) and came up with an enlightening example of mid-20th century splendor.

Everyone said it was the gayest fete in royal memory. And though the rest of the world might bemoan the extravagance, it probably wouldn't have minded an invitation.

104 - 104 - 104

Moving on to less liquid refreshment, we would remind the many Cameron Public Library boosters that this is National Library Week.

Books, like parties, can be enjoyed. But unlike parties, they can be reread and relived without incident.

Books are not all somber and serious. When we can believe that, then they become more a pleasure, an easy way to travel widely, learn quickly and remember well.

Why don't you visit your Cameron Public Library this week. Things, big things are planned there, including a weekly story - telling hour this summer and other cultural, but "fun" things for everybody.

$3,300 Cash Prizes
Sell New Subs, Make Big Money

The Cameron Herald today starts a major Circulation Expansion Campaign, to continue for five weeks, which will enroll workers from every section of Milam County and will invite every family in the Milam trade area to become regular Herald readers.

To insure a successful campaign, we are offering the biggest array of cash award prizes -- $3,300, plus added commissions -- to make this the greatest cash event ever offered in Milam County.

To insure success and make it easier for enrolled workers to sell, multiple - year subscription prices have been reduced for the duration of the campaign.

Workers also will present each subscriber with a card good for one FREE want ad in The Herald, easily worth a $1.

If you have even spare time to work in this campaign, there is no better way to make a big weekly pay check in pleasant work among people you know, plus an opportunity to win one of seven offered prizes.

$1,000 FIRST PRIZE

First prize is $1,000; two second prizes of $500; two third prizes of $300; and two fourth prizes of $150. All will be awarded at the end of the campaign, the last day of May.

A double - page advertisement in today's Herald explains it all in detail. Everyone is invited, especially those interested in working and earning money, to read every word of this big advertisement. Then come to The Herald office and ask to enroll as a worker.

There is nothing better than to get an early start.

During the past several days, campaign managers have contacted and enrolled some workers, but there is still room for a half dozen more. This presents a special opportunity for men or women living in the other towns and communities as well as in Cameron.

CAMPAIGN STARTS TODAY

The campaign will officially start with the distribution of receipt books supplies and instructions to the enrolled workers at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at a little party at The Texan Cafe. Refreshments will be served.

If you are undecided about enrolling, come to this gathering Thursday afternoon, April 25, and get the details on how easy it is going to be to earn good money these next few weeks in this, your Herald's, campaign.

It costs nothing to get the facts --it costs you nothing to enroll. Earning opportunity such as this is seldom offered except by big city newspapers.

Jordan Student To Appear Here

Guest speaker for the Cameron Lions Club's Ladies Night will be Mary Zumott of Amman, Jordan. The event will be 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Western Room of the Texan Cafe.

Miss Zumott is a foreign student at Baylor University where she is a junior. She is planning to teach after she graduates from Baylor. She is majoring in English and psychology.

Before coming to Baylor she attended the Mississippi College for Women for two years. She is on a scholarship to the school.

Subscribers Win Too In Subscription Drive

On this page today is explained the possibilities for 15 or more local men and women to win one of seven big cash prizes, and earn big weekly pay checks. It is explained in a big double - page advertisement, Page 12 - 13, this issue!

But in this little supplementary story, we want to emphasize that each and every subscriber to The Herald, either new, or planning to renew their subscriptions during our big Expansion Campaign, is going to be a winner, too -- through savings offered in reduced multiple - year subscription prices.

We are offering from now until June 1, an opportunity to make a saving of as much as $6.00 on a 5 -year subscription; varying lesser amounts on all subscriptions.

Further, with each subscription sold, the subscriber gets a FREE classified ad in the Herald.

At the campaign end on June 1, the subscription price for The Herald will be advanced to 3.00 yearly in the county area; to $4.00 outside the area.

The recent postage rate increase enacted by the federal government, with another increase to come next year, left the Herald no alternative than to increase subscription rates.

Before we put the increase into effect, we want every subscriber to have the privilege of renewing subscriptions just one more time at the old rate, despite the fact that this rate has been one of the lowest for a county seat newspaper anywhere in the state of Texas.

Join as a subscriber in our campaign and in doing so -- save money.

What's Ahead For Cattle Prices?

COLLEGE STATION — The recent drop in feed cattle prices has caused considerable concern among cattlemen as to the prospects for the near future, says Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The average weights of cattle slaughtered under federal inspection so far this year, have been the heaviest since early 1961. This was caused by the low number of cows slaughtered along with heavier weights of feed cattle coming from feedlots, explains Uvacek.

Even though the nation's population and income levels continue to increase, the effect is not enough to offset the future increases in beef supplies.

Marketings of fed cattle will be very heavy in the West and the Corn Belt during the next three or four months, he says. The April - June quarter should be about 10 percent from levels of a year ago.

Uvacek says that forecasts indicate strengthening fed cattle prices in the West during the late summer and fall.

In view of this situation, feedlot management should consider holding down on capital investments and should market fed cattle as soon as they reach the desired grade, advises Uvacek.

Milam ASCS Report

Notices of 1964 - crop wheat acreage allotments have been mailed to all wheat farm operators, Alva E. Sanders, office manager of the Milam County Agricultural, Stabilization and Agricultural Service, has announced.

For large wheat farms the allotment represents the farm's share of the 1964 national wheat allotment of 49.5 million acres. For small farms, however (those with wheat allotments of less than 15 the larger of (a) the farm's allotment based on the national allotment, or (b) 90 percent of the farm's average 1959 thru 1961 wheat acreage, but not more than 15 acres.

Sanders pointed out that all the wheat produced on a participating farm's wheat allotment acreage may be marketed free of penalty if marketing quotas are made effective for the 1964 wheat crop.

The question of whether to use marketing quotas for the 1964 wheat crop will be decided by wheat growers in a referendum on May 21. "Small farm" operators will be eligible to cast ballots provided they register (by May 13) their intention to participate in the 1964 program as an allotment grower. They will do this by signing in the space provided on the back of the regular allotment notice, MQ-24 and filing the notice at the ASCS County Office before the deadline.

Under quotas, a small farm operator who does not elect to participate in the wheat program as an allotment grower would be able to stay out of the program, and plant wheat up to the larger of his 1964 allotment or his 3-year base without being subject to marketing quota penalties. Penalties would apply to wheat in excess of this limit. Such a grower will not be eligible to vote in the referendum, however, and he would not be eligible for price support or diversion payments.

Favorite Grass For This Area

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent
Guest Writer
Milam County Judge Don Humble

One of the favorite lawn grasses in this area is St. Augustine, but unfortunately it is also one of the most difficult to keep in healthy and eye - pleasing condition. Although I have never been accused of having a green thumb, it had never occured to me that growing a lawn could present so many basic growth problems until we decided to plow the lawn at the county courthouse and replant it in St. Augustine grass. No sooner had we sodded the new grass in than it turned a sickly whitist yellow and appeared to slowly die out in spots. Having had some similar problems at home, we were able to recognize our problem as chlorosis, or iron shortage. This is a very common lawn and shrub problem in that area and has undoubtedly been encountered by many readers of this paper, but usually recognized for what it is by too few.

Chlorosis is indicated by a yellowing of the leaf of the plant with the veins in the leaves losing their green color last, so that you can usually diagnose the troubie by a simple visual inspection. A typical leaf is yellowish in color with green veins. Chlorosis is easily confused with nitrogen shortage so when the problem of the lawn losing its color becomes apparent, you should immediately send a soil sample to A & M College for testing to determine the condition of the soil nutrients. Many pounds of fertilizer are wasted in lavishing them on iron short lawns. The addition of simple commercial fertilizers without iron additives merely grows more yellow grass, not greener grass.

Once the diagnosis of chlorosis is made, there are several products which can be applied to bring the soil into proper balance. One is a chelate applied with water; but its cost is practically prohibitive and its duration is poor. The best product we have found is iron sulphate, commonly called copperas. This applied dry with the spring application of fertilizer at the rate of about 1 pound per 80 square feet seems to do a good job in the blackland area. This application can also be made with a solution of copperas in water and probably gets quicker results, but for the average home lawn the dry application is adequate. This application can be safely repeated as often as chlorosis symptoms appear. Caution should be exercised in applying copperas by either methodsince it will cause iron stains to sidewalks if allowed to remain on them. Our sidewalks around the courthouse have some very plain footprints in iron color made by the tracking of copperas. This may be prevented by hosing the walks off with water after applying.

The problem of chlorsis is never permanently cured in this area unless the soil makeup is changed, but it can be cured for reasonable periods of time by the above simple treatment at very moderate cost.

By J. D. Moore

An all - out effort is being put forth by the Milam County Livestock Improvement Association to rid the county of Brucellosis. This is a contagious disease affecting beef cattle, dairy cattle and swine. Most stockmen know the penalty, price - wise, placed on their stock at the sale, not to mention the restrictions placed on the move - ment of stocker cattle from an infessed area to a clean area.

Some 900 Milam county stockmen have signed the brucellosis petition and we need 1014 signers to be able to petition the Texas Animal Health Commission for assistance in a clean - up program.

The stockman will not be unduly penalized for participating in this program. There will be no out-of-the-pocket cost to the producer other than penning his cattle for the test.

The Board of Directors of the Milam County Farm Bureau voted to spend upwards of $200 to help stockmen complete the necessary signers for this program.

Any stockmen who needs further information concerning this program should contact John S. Batte, county Chairman; Bill Arthur, sectreas; one of our county veterinarians, a vocational agricultural teacher or the county agent.

Bad luck and Johnnie Barrett are riding together this season in the Waco racing circle it seems.

The first week he was runinng he had already taken a first and a second and was in good position to rank high in the feature race. But about half way thru the race his car blew up.

That didn't stop Johnnie. He and Dub Baxter spent nights rebuilding the motor and getting it ready.

After a first and a couple of seconds he blew the car up in the main race again a couple weeks ago.

Friday night he borrowed a car and drove to a first place in the first heat and a second in the 15 lap simi - main event. In the main event, a 25 lap race, he placed third.

Now he is rebuilding the motor completely and hopes to have it ready to go this weekend as he races Friday night at Waco.

-sh-

But a little luck, a good car and a good bit of driving know - how was with Edward Moraw of Cameron as he took a couple of first places at the Temple Drag Strip.

Moraw placed first in the A-gas division with his 1955 Chevy. This is the top gas fed even in races.

He was also the top eliminator as he turned the quarter in a quick 14.85 seconds.

The drags at Tmple Strip, near Little River, draw drivers and their cars from all over Central Texas. Entries came from Fort Hood Marlin, Temple, Belton, Killeen, and others.

The races also are attracting quite a bit of interest in Cameron as a lot of the younger people are going to watch these young men put their cars thru the paces.

WHEN TO TRAIN BEAGLES

Increased interest in rabbit hunting here in Texas, and the use of dogs to hunt them, has presented several questions as to when a beagle's training should begin.

The answer is from eight to ten months, depending on the dog's aptitude.

A good rule is to wait until the pup shows a genuine interest in the field and strikes out boldly.

Meantime, the experts say, teach him obedience at home -- to heel and to come directly to you when called.

The discovery of fire started us on the road to being civilized.

Man's progress can be measured by his ability to convert dormant energy into mechanical and electrical energy and to control them for useful purposes.

Heat energy obtained from coal, oil and natural gas is used to power the generators which produce our nation's electric energy needs.

Costs of fuels represent the third largest item of the operating expenses of the investor-owned electric utility companies; only taxes and payroll cost more.

Looking to future fuel needs and in the interest of keeping fuel costs low, Texas Power & Light Company carries on long-range programs of fuel utilization, exploration and research.

Among the research programs is one aimed at the development of efficient and economical utilization of Texas lignite and another with respect to a fusion reaction for the production of useful power. The latter program is sponsored by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation which was formed in 1957 by TP&L and 10 other investor-owned electric utility companies in Texas.

The search for conventional fuels and research into more efficient use of these fuels will be continued as will the effort to develop revolutionary new fuels . . . all to assure that the customers of Texas Power & Light Company will always have an abundant supply of low-cost electricity.

Won't You Help Us?

With this issue, The Herald launches a serious effort to grow.

Many Milam Countians and Cameronites will be contacting prospective subscribers in the Milam trade area, seeking to bring them news and the many ad savings available each week in the Herald.

We think it is proper that Milam County's oldest newspaper take strides to grow, simply because we advocate the absolute necessity of growth and modernization throughout Milam County.

If present subscribers wish to endorse this attitude of growth and improvement, we urge you to tell your neighbors about the five weeks drive coming up to make The Herald one of the most widely read weeklies in Texas as well as one of the oldest.

In our belief that a newspaper is a service institution, committed not just to news or entertainment or ad savings, but to positive comment, we do not always arouse friendship. But we hope to arouse respect and optimism about the future of Milam and Central Texas.

Your co - operation in The Herald's effort will mean wider distribution of ideas, some good, some not so good in the reader's eyes. But ideas are what makes things happen and we want to help.

Won't you help us?

Last Prisoner Exchange

The United States has made its final exchange of prisoners, this time three Cubans charged with sabotage for 21 Americans imprisoned by the Castro government.

New York attorney James B. Donovan said this is the final such exchange. And there was no ransom.

The former Cuban prisoners told a story of bayonet treatment and meals of mush and horsemeat. There was a report of plans to dynamite the cells around them.

Perhaps the U. S. has gained some stature for its merciful handling of the Cuban prisoner exchanges. The idemnity paid for the large group of invaders was pretty hard to swallow, even though a lot of the exchange was pills furnished by American pharmaceutical houses.

In the long run, it will still require some kind of freeze out or cutoff to solve the Cuban problem.

We understand that indigant Cubans in Florida are carrying signs reminding themselves and others that "Communism is still only 90 miles away."

That is not too far, come to think of it. It's like having old Fidel camped in Austin in relation to Cameron.

THE OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Claims Russians Use Lie Detector Test In Reverse To Select Diplomats

Dear editar:

I've been noticing lately that more and more people are taking lie detector tests.

Football and basketball players take them, coaches take them, criminals take them, suspects take them, etc. But more than that I understand business is now employing the lie detector, and propsective employess are some times required to take the tests to indicate whether they can be trusted later on.

Why some people have even suggested that politicians take the tests, but nothing much has come of it. I guess they're waiting till sturdier models of the machines come out.

Another use for the lie detector machine which nobody else seems to have thought of and which I offer free of charge would be in the public schools.

One of the worst chores of teaching, I understand, is grading papers. My system would eliminate this. All you'd have to do is strap each kid in a lie detector machine at examination time. Then instead of asking him if Columbus discovered America in 1492, ask him simply if he knows when Columbus discovered America. If he says yes he knows, the machine will automatically record whether he's telling the truth or not and an adding machine attached to it would register the grade at the bottom of the test. By using the machines from first grade through college, I figure one billion man and-woman - hours of labor per month grading papers will be eliminated.

I don't know whether this is true or not, but I've heard a rumor, which I made up myself, that the Russians are years ahead of us in the use of the lie detector machine.

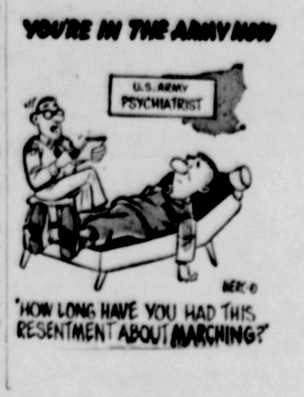
For example, say the Russian bosses need a few more diplomats. They pick out a large group of prospects and give them detailed lie detector tests. The men who make the lowest score are graded at the top of the class. The last thing the Russians would want in their didplomatic service would be a man who had the unstable trait of teling the truth. I don't know what brand of machine the Russians use, but obviously they're years ahead of us.

Yours faithfully

J. A.

HALF OF COUNTIES

Nearly half of the counties in Texas now qualify as modified certified brucellosis areas and more are in the process of certification, reports Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.



Dateline Austin —

Overhaul Due On Election Code

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — A complete overhaul of the election code is due. Sen ate already has passed a bill correcting scores of errors in the old law, which was overhauled in haste in 1951.

House members amended the bill to eliminate the "agent form" of paying poll taxes. Instead, prospective voters would have to go to the court house or get a deputy tax collector to certify qualification to vote.

House also refused to require county tax assessors to name civic workers as deputies.

Progress is slow on the proposals to abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting.

Senators passed a proposed constitutional amendment to let the people say whether they want to keep the poll tax. But after some delay, a House committee put it in subcommittee.

Meanwhile, the national constitutional amendment to outlaw the poll tax in election of President, Vice President, Senators and Congressmen has been ratified by 30 states. When eight more ratify it, use of the poll tax in Texas would be out the window.

Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo envisions the possibility that the 1964 election could be held with state officers elected by poll tax holders, federal officials by everybody.

SHORTEST SESSION

A modern - day record for short legislative sessions may be set if Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Speaker Byron Tunnell can get legislators to wind up their business by May 7.

A May 7 adjournment has been filed. But the Constitution would allow them to work until May 27 if they can't finish by the 7th.

Both houses have been making fast progress on "local and uncontested bill" days.

BIG BILLS PENDING

Length of the legislative session hinges on the three biggest issues yet unsettled.

One is the House-passed tax bill to provide $32,000,000 to finance Gov John B. Connally's higher education, tourist and industry - catching programs.

Then there's the appropriations bill, which is being worked out in conference committee headed by Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo and Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah. It allocates the funds to each agency for spending during the next two years.

And there is the loan regulation bill, which Speaker Tunnell and Governor Connally consider a "must". It may be trouble since the Senate bill, which must read bare majority, was changed considerably by a House subcommittee.

RURAL DEVELOPMENT ACT

Rep. Joe Cannon of Mexia told the House State Affairs Committee that Texas' rural counties are in "tremendous trouble" and need help from the state.

Cannon appeared on behalf of his bill, co - sponsored by Rep. H. G. Wells of Tulia, which would apply to nine - tenths of the counties in Texas. Specifically those with less than 45,000 population.

Bill would require State Comptroller to compile a list of the low-population counties and set up a rural development fund. It would be build up through a refund of two per cent of all taxes collected by these counties.

Rural development fund would provide about $2,000,000 annually that could be spent to lure industries that lack money to advertise their attractions.

Reps. J. Collier Adams of Lubbock, Ben Jarvis of Tyler and Donald D. Shipley of Houston are on the subcommittee studying the bill.

DROP — OUTS DEADLY

Some startling facts about the high school drop - out problem have been revealed by the Texas State Teachers Association. They started that "Drop - outs face a dead end in a world where education and its skills in the employment field are becoming a necessity."

Victor Sumner of the Texas Education Agency predicted that in the next five years about a third of a million young Texans will leave high school between ninth grade and graduation.

He estimated this fatal step would cost these youngsters nearly $75,000,000,000 in lifetime income.

"People in the employment field tell me that the hard core of unemployment now is composed of drop -outs from 20 to 30 years ago." Sumner stated.

CODE OF ETHICS

Tighter rules over the private business activities of state officials has been the talk of the Capitol since Williams J. Murray Jr. resigned from the Railroad Commission. Murray said he made more than $1,000,000 in oil deals while regulating that industry.

Reps. Bob Eckhardt of Houston, James Nugent of Kerrville and Travis Feeler of Corpus Christi introduced a bill to outlaw investments by state officials in the fields which they regulate Old Code of Ethics law-- passed in 1957 -- merely called on them to disclose any such interests.

Rep. John Allen of Longview, chairman of the House State Affairs Committee, named a subcommittee to go over the bill . . . . to tighten up the tightening up. He indicated that he will try to bring the bill out for House action quickly.

Schiller Endorses RR Crossing Law For TNT Trucks

AUSTIN — A proposed law requiring explosive - laden vehicles to stop at unprotected railroad grade crossings was endorsed today by Rep. Milton Schiller of Cameron

"Such a law has long been needed in Texas to help stop the senseless slaughter of our citizens," said Schiller.

The bill is now bottled up in a House subcommittee, Schiller reported.

The Legislator declared:

"This is strictly a public safety measure which would require all vehicles carrying explosives or inflammable liquids to 'Stop - Look-Listen' before crossing railroad tracks that are not protected by signal devices. It was introduced early in this session but it is dying a slow death in subcommittee.

"The death toll from train - truck collisions is on the increase, but we haven't had one single fatality from a bus - train crash since the Legislature enacted a law in 1947 requiring buses to stop at crossings.

"A 'Stop - Look - Listen" law for vehicles with dangerous cargoes could help put an end to the needless deaths at rail corssings all over the State -- just as such a law stopped the killings that once took place in bus - train accidents."

Sen. Watson Urges More Interest In Public Affairs

ROCKDALE — A greater expression of public sentiment is needed in Texas to direct the affairs of government, Senator Murray Watson said today.

Speaking to the 11th District Convention of the American Legion here, the Central Texas Senator said.

"We who serve the citizens in our law - making branch of government are acutely aware of and responsive to the needs and wishes of the people only when we know what those need and wishes are."

Watson said the passage or defeat of legislation depends primarily on public sentiment but that unfortunately, an expression of this sentiment is lacking in most cases.

"I know a Senator who was dead - set against a bill and pledged his efforts to defeat it," Watson pointed out.

"But within a matter of days this Senator did an abrupt about - face and voted for the bill because of the telegrams and phone calls he had received from the folks back home. This is the power of the people's voice when they make themselves heard."

Senator Watson told the Legionnaires that many people look upon politics as a "dirty game" despite the fact that the whole system of government in America is based on politics.

"Folks who think politics is a dirty game should get in there and help clean it up," said Watson.

142 ACCIDENTS

In a recent study of 142 fatal tractor accidents in Ohio, only 8 indicated mechanical failure. Human failure caused the rest. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council reminds farmers to do some checking on tractor fatalities in their area. These same figures would probably be close to what is happening in Texas.

Crippled Children's Clinic Scheduled At A&M Church

The 19th annual Crippled Children's Clinic will be open to all applicants at the A&M Presbyterian Church Monday, May 6 from 8 a. m. until noon.

The clinic is sponsored by three organizations, the Brazos County Society for Crippled Children, the College Station Kiwanis Club, and the Brazos Valley Shrine Club.

"The Crippled Children's Clinic is held for children crippled by disease, burns or congenital cause," says Jack Sloan, general chairman. "It is free and open to all applicants and children should be accompanied by parents or guardian."

No treatments are given children at the clinic, but their disabilities are checked by physicians sent to the clinic by the Texas Department of Health and the children are referred to other sources of assistance for proper treatment.

COTTON REPORT

Texas - Oklahoma Summary:

Spot cotton sales remained slow again this week in Southwestern Markets, according to the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Prices were generally steady in designated and county markets. The cotton trade anxiously awaited the results of CCC's April 15 sale under the new export sales program, which were released on April 18 and indicated that a total of 66,100 bales were sold at an average price of 24.79 cents per pound for Middling 1".

Trading was light, mostly even running lots of small volume for nearby deliveries. Shippers were stocks and offered freely unobligated cotton. Farmers sold a small volume of equities at prices up to $30 per bale.

Domestic mill interest was sluggish with buying confined mostly to small lots to cover present orders. Foreign activity was light except for inquiries. "Free dollar" countries of Europe along with Australia were the most active buyers, buying mostly the medium grades and staples.

Planting continued to make good progress. Temperatures were milder this week with thundershowers dotting the weather map. Many localities were in dire need of rain before planting. High winds in many sections made blowing dust a problem.

AUSTIN

Planting made good progress during the week. Last week's rain provided excellent moisture conditions for planting in most sections. Over one - half of the cotton acreage was up to a stand with 25-35 percent expected to be planted this week. Seed is adequate for planting and any replanting that will be necessary.

First cultivation and rotary hoeing was started in the Winter Garden and Upper Coastal Bend. Early poisoning for aphids and thrips was under way in the Winter Garden section. Some of the older cotton has had two applications of poison. Recent cool nights aided insect infestations considerably.

Market activity was nil. Equity could evaluate the results of the new export sales program, especially the results of the first sale held April 15.

FOR SALE — Two formals in good condition. Priced to sell OX 7-2447. 4-tc

FOR SALE - 12 to 15 mixed breed cows. $125.00, easy to see. Bill C. Barnett, Caldwell.

One of a series of reports by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association on the advantages of print media.

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people generally do.

Not only do they read; they cut out and show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples.

When people see an advertisement in print, they can compare designs . . . features . . . and prices of nationally known products and services. (And people do compare before they buy.)

Advertising in print is a handy thing. You can always check back; the message is still there even if your attention is distracted.

When you add it up, print advertising—the kind you read in this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales.

San Jacinto Story — Part II

Mexicans Rally, But Fail

Their cannon had been taken and passed. Ours had ceased firing because we were too closely mixed with the Mexicans. At a point of timber across the slew, which by this time was bridged by bogged horses, on which we crossed, a Mexican officer of high rank, flourishing his sword, made a grand appeal to rally his men, but was shot down, and the men who had turned to face us again continued their flight only to be overtaken and shot. I do not like to dwell on these scenes. No doubt our men were justifiable, as the Mexican nation deserved punishment for its perfidy, though the soldiers were not responsible for it. About half of them were killed; some drowned in the bay.

General Almonte, with commendible daring, came forward among our men, called for officers and demanded to be allowed to surrender. About five hundred men grouped up behind him on the principles of civilized warfare. I did not see this. I believe Col. Burleson was the officer to accept the surrender, and gave the order to cease firing. At the time I was with a large party of men all from different commands who were pursuing Mexicans towards the bay.

TROOPS SCATTERED

Our troops were scattered and much in disorder as the Mexicans. It took me some time to find the regiment, or the nucleous of it with the Colonel about the center of the Mexicans. The drums were beating the assembly and the men were slowly coming in.

Of the main proceedings during the night I know little, being detached from the main body to guard Santa Anna's baggage. I want to make one further comment on that time, which is, that I believe the Mexican soldiers we encountered that day were much braver than they have been credited with being; no one has ever disputed the bravery of their officers. There were two causes for officers and men alike being despirited. One was the miserable position taken. It would have been a formidable one three hundred yards further back, with the boggy slew in front and the timber to rally in. The Mexican officers describe Santa Anna as not open to counsel, stubborn, self - confident, tyrannical and the men knew he had acted contrary to the laws of nations in the slaughter of our men at the Alamo and Goliad. They had had good experience of the Americans in battle, we came with the cry of "Alamo" and they knew it meant vengeance. We were not hurt in our advance by their fire, and we reserved our own for close quarters. The resistence did not last over ten minutes."

GUARD BAGGAGE

Erath's account said that he and a man named Simmons from Bastrop were ordered to guard a pile of Mexican baggage by Burleson.

"He rode away; we went inside the baggage pile and found it was Santa Anna's, containing camp furniture of sliver, richly arranged, such as an European prince might take with him in the field. And there were in addition all kinds of eatables -- a considerable part already cooked. Simmons took a kind of mat off a pyramid about six feet high, and called me to look. It was several dozen baskets of champagne, and just beyond it we found such another pyramid. I was not interested in champagne, nor did Simmons make any immoderate use of it, but we gave the bottles liberally to the stragglers returning to camp saying that it belonged to the estables which we had permission to give away.

When Captain Roman of Com - pany A of our regiment arrived with his men in about two hours, we thought he had come to relieve us, but he said he had been sent especially to take charge of the military chest the colonel had left in our possession. We showed him the champagne. Then he called for his lieutenant, and the nature of champagne got out someway so that we had plenty of company of officers for the rest of the night. I don't think much of the whole was left.

SANTA ANNA'S FINERY

The military chest contained about eleven thousand dollars in specie. Santa Anna's fine saddle, which was in my possession that night, brought eight hundred dollars when sold at auction the next day. All the finery and silver with the military chest brougth sixteen hundred dollars.

About half the Mexican force was killed, some wounded, and seven hundred prisoners taken. About eight hundred pack mules and a number of horses fell into our hands. Our own losses, if I remember right, were six killed and eighteen wounded; only one killed and six wounded in our company.

As might have been expected, Santa Anna made his escape while his officers and men were fighting for him. He was captured next day in a thicket up a tree about two miles from our camp.

I saw him soon after he was brought in. On account of my occupation the night before, I was given liberty the next day. I selpt during the afternoon. In the afternoon I heard of Santa Anna's capture and went down to General Houston's camp near the bank of the bayou. Quite in contrast to Santa Anna's extravagent luxuries, Houston lay wounded on a blanket or two with his head against a tree, and a rope was stretched around him, breast high, to keep him from being stepped on by passers - by. Santa Anna was already inside the rope, but few we aware that he was there.

INTERPRETERS, OFFICERS

Lieutenant Bryne and Vice-President Zavala were interpreting. Almonte, who speaks English well, was also brought. Other officers came and received introductions to Santa Anna, but few remained long. I followed very closely his phrasing in his own language, and thought him a great diplomatist. Among his first propositions was an armistice, and when he under - stood it was not desired, unless for the purpose of negotiating for our independence, the substance of his reply, as I remember it, was that the fate of war had decided the matter, and he intimated that he would not be averse to granting it. I also remember that he laid stress on the fact that he still had four thousand men under arms on the Brazos, but offered for the sake of convenience to order these to retire. This is giving the particulars of my own remembrance, which does not differ in the main from other accounts."

Almost immediately after the battle, Erath said, most of the Texans wanted to get out of the army and return to their homes. His account concluded:

"The term of service of the greater part of the army had been enlistments of three months from the first of March, was now expiring, and by the 14th of May Captain Billingsby was ordered to go to Bastrop with his company and disband. We started on the 15th with a wagon and some pack mules and the next day passed through San Felipe which had been burned and crossing Mill Creek marched to some point on the western bank in the direction of Bastrop and camped near a house where part of the family had returned ....."

ANYTHING YOU CAN DO WITHOUT

"I see here that Jack, one of my neighbor's boys, has been promoted, this time to a top position in the firm that he went to work for after he finished his schooling.

Jack is living proof that a boy doesn't have to carouse and dissipate to enjoy himself, on the penalty of loosing the respect and regard of his male companions. He was one of our school's top athletes, a good boxer and no one ever had more fun or enjoyed life more than he. Moreover, he enjoyed wide popularity.

As a youth he was a leader in the young people's activities of our church. He is a dynamic example of the kind of character church training can build. Since he has gone into business his life has disproved the idea, held by many, that 'life as taught by the Church is beautiful in theory, all right for Sunday but impractical throughout the week in business.'

In truth, he is a living testimony to the fact that ANYTHING YOU CAN NOT FIND IN GOD YOU CAN DO WITHOUT — AND DO WITHOUT IT JOYOUSLY."

"Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ" I Corinthians 3:11.

Waco Man Takes Oath For Texas Highway Post

AUSTIN — J. H. Kultgen of Waco took the oath of office to officially become a member of the Texas Highway Commission.

Kultgen, long a prominent good-roads backer, was earlier appointed to the post by Governor John Connally and confirmed by the State Senate. He will sere a six-year term.

Kultgen joins Herbert C. Petry Jr. of Carrizo Springs and Hal Woodward of Coleman on the three-member Commission which makes policies to guide the Texas Highway Department. Petty is Chairman of the Commission.

A successful automobile dealer in Waco since 1936, the new Commissioner is president of Bird - Kultgen, Inc., Huaco Motors, Inc. and director of the First National Bank of Waco, Texas Life Insurance Co., and many other business enterprises.

Born and educated in Chicago, Kultgen first came to Texas as an Army pilot during World War I. His civic activities include past terms as president of the Texas Good Roads Association, the Brazos River Authority, the Waco Chamber of Commerce, the Baylor Stadium Corporation, and the Heart O'Texas Fair Association.

Herbert C. Petry Jr. is now serving his second consecutive six - year term on the Commission (first ever to achieve this distinction), the last four years as Chairman. A practicing attorney in his home town, Petry is past president of Lions International, Border District Bar Association, and the Carrizo Springs Chamber of Commerce; has been active in the Texas Good Roads Association; and has served on the Governor's traffic safety and economy commissions.

Woodward, who has served four years on the Commission, is a native of West Texas. A former city attorney of Coleman, he is past president of the Turstees of Overall Memorial Hospital, a director of the Coleman Board of Community Development, and a director of the Texas Law Enforcement Foundation.

Mrs. Mary Lawrence, guest speaker, spoke on Career Advancement.

The hostess served ice cream sodas to 12 members. The next meeting will be May 6 at 7:30 p.m. at the Conference Room. Mrs. Mary Houston will be hostess.

REASONS FOR THIS CAMPAIGN

The Cameron Herald today starts a subscription campaign at bargain prices for new and renewal subscriptions.

News from Milam's county seat is vital to every resident and property owner in Milam County. And the ad savings are of interest to people throughout the Milam area . . . BECAUSE The Herald's advertisers SAVE YOU MONEY!

Thousands of homes in Milam County, many residents of Milam who are our friends will be asked to subscribe regularly, perhaps for the first time.

The Herald's news coverage, cited numerous times in various Texas contests, is constantly expanding to meet the expanding interest in the needs of Milam County, Cameron and surrounding communities. The Herald is looking to the future of this area and is confident a great many more readers in the Milam community will wish to keep posted through these pages.

All postage rates have been increased recently for second class postage for newspapers as well as for letters and postcards. We cannot continue to absorb that increased cost at the present subscription price.

But, during this expansion campaign, the present rate will remain the same in multiple - year subscriptions the rate actually will be reduced — bargain rates both to present subscribers and to new ones who we hope to enroll in the next five weeks.

On June 1, the concluding date of this campaign, the subscription price of The Cameron Herald will go from the present $2.50 plus state tax to $3.00 plus state tax in Milam County Trade Area. Outside that area, it will be $4 plus sales tax in Texas.

You are invited to subscribe from one of our contestants in this campaign at never - to - be repeated bargain rates.

IT IS IMPORTANT TO REPORT SUBSCRIPTION SALES ON ALL REPORT DAYS

YouGet Big Votes For Reporting

All others report three times weekly Monday thru Friday and each report earns them 50,000 votes. Rural contestants may report by mail, but must report in person once each week.

These reporting votes can be a real factor in winning at campaign end.
